

Your two-minute guide to writing your Will.

Thanks for letting us know you want to make every tomorrow better for Australian children.

Here are 3 simple steps to help ensure your wishes are met when you write your Will.

1. Speak to your loved ones

Leaving a gift in your Will could be one of the most meaningful decisions you ever make. We encourage you to talk openly with your loved ones and share with them your intentions to help break the cycle of poverty for future generations through your legacy.

2. Decide what type of gift feels right for you

There are different ways to include a gift in your Will. You might choose to leave a specific amount, a percentage of your estate, or whatever remains after other gifts have been made.

Even a small percentage of your estate – once your loved ones are taken care of – can create meaningful opportunities, breaking down barriers and opening doors for children facing disadvantage through education.

Remember, your Will is an important legal document, so it is a good idea to speak with a solicitor or financial planner. They can make sure your wishes are clearly documented and carried out exactly as you intend.

3. Let us know your decision

If you decide to leave a gift in your Will, we hope you'll inform us of your generosity. Knowing your intentions will give us the opportunity to thank you properly and keep you informed of how gifts in Wills are transforming the lives of Australian children in need.
